Thoughts I've had during office meetings....
Perhaps they resemble some of your own.

- By the time someone says something worth writing down, I'm already going to have my pen apart & lost the spring.
- Yes, doing your job is part of your job.
- If I gave him a crayon, could he draw a conclusion
- Oh no, did I roll my eyes out loud?
- Another meeting that should have been an email.
- Sorry for being late. I was enjoying my last few minutes of not being here.
- Worst...Staff Meeting...Ever!
- I'm not convinced we've wasted enough time on this.
- I should be given an award for keeping my mouth shut when there's so much that needs to be said.
- Ummm, can you repeat the part of the stuff where you said all about the things??
- Yes, I think I will pencil that in for completion in Nevuary....
- The fact that no one understands you doesn't mean you're an artist.
- I'll be a lot easier to get along with once you people learn to worship me.
- I'm not bossy, I just know what you should be doing....
- You are violating my inherent mistrust of colleagues...
- I will always cherish the initial misconceptions I had about you.
- Any connection between your reality and mine is purely coincidental.
- My bad...I came to the wrong meeting.
- I don't care if you CAN prove your point through a dazzling presentation. If you turn out the lights, I'm falling asleep.
- Sarcasm is just one more service I offer.
- Ahhh...Chaos, panic and disorder...my work here is done.
- Errors have been made. You all will be blamed....

Of course NONE of these were thought during any of Mr. Springer's meetings.....Enjoy your Black Book!
